NASHVILLE, Tenn.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Melanie McFaddin, Representative of Wiley Bros. – Aintree Capital, LLC (“WBAC”) is pleased to announce its representation of MMY Consulting, Inc. (“MMY”) in its merger with Global Commerce & Information, Inc. (“Global CI”)

MMY, founded in 2003 and headquartered in Indianapolis, has a 17-year track record of delivering high-value, technology-focused projects, on time and on budget, increasing organization productivity and improving operational efficiencies for some of the nation’s largest healthcare organizations. Global CI, founded in 1992 and headquartered in Baltimore, provides leading health IT, cybersecurity and cloud strategies and solutions to Government agencies. It has a rich heritage in Interoperability, AI, ML, DevOps, DevSecOps, Quality Management, Elite Enterprise Architecture and analysis of large volumes of medical data.

“MMY offers an exciting opportunity for Global CI to strengthen and expand its service offerings in the commercial Healthcare market,” explained Mike Ziman, founder and CEO of Global CI. “With a range of high-profile clients, the acquisition of MMY supports the strategy of taking its award-winning IT solutions into this space.”

“Ms. McFaddin’s role in advising and supporting us through the entire process exceeded our expectations. She possesses a deep knowledge of the industry which combined with her strong industry contacts and substantial deal experience gave us comfort that we were being well-represented,” said Bill Monachino, President and CEO of MMY. “When you combine this with her personal dedication and commitment, she was instrumental in helping us attain our business and personal goals.”
